About.

Our aim is to create exquisite furniture that is harmonious and unique: a balance of precisionist lines and natural curves, quiet classicism and a touch of whimsy, designed to treasure, enjoy and amuse.

All of our furniture is made to order in the UK using traditional methods, the greatest care and the highest quality materials. Most of our designs can be customised in scale and finish. Our current lead-time is 8-14 weeks from order.

We have been designing and making furniture in the UK since 2006. Each design is individually produced by teams of exceptionally skilled artisans who wheedle and cajole lux natural materials into a myriad of splendid pieces which are then lovingly hand finished.

We have, over the years, added complementary ranges of fabrics and rugs which can be viewed along with examples of our furniture and finishes in our London showroom or on our comprehensive website.

We are privileged to work with many of the world's finest architects, interior designers and discerning individuals on residential, commercial and nautical projects of all scale.

Finishes

We produce our furniture primarily from American black walnut and European oak. Our standard finish options are designed to enhance these robust hardwoods without losing the beautiful character of the natural grain or its ability to gently patina over time. For our designs which incorporate hand-selected veneers the same finishes are generally available.

The fabricated and cast metal which features in many of our designs can also be finished to suit. The hand-applied finish process adds to the unique inherent beauty of the metal and creates a number of different looks and options for our designs.

Additionally, we can on request create bespoke finishes or match to existent finishes.

Upholstery

Our upholstered furniture is rigorously prototyped to ensure that it is both extremely comfortable and remains aesthetically and physically strong for years to come.

We practice time-honoured traditional upholstery standards including the incorporation of hardwood internal frames, hand-tied springs and the individual placement of decorative studs.

To insure ultimate comfort we use a mix of feather wrapped foam, full feather or high-density foam cushions depending on the physical requirements of each piece.

Most of our upholstery pieces can be tailored to fit any space or project specifications, and although we make each piece individually, we have the capacity and experience to produce for large scale commercial projects within a tight timescale.

Cabinetry

All of our furniture is built with the utmost care and precision in our British workshops, where the time-honoured tradition of world-class English cabinet making is still practiced and passed on through apprenticeships.

Here each piece is individually produced to exacting quality and finish by an exceptionally talented team of craftspeople. Timbers and veneers are hand picked for character and strength, marquetry is cut, jointed and pressed into place, dovetail, tendon and lap joints cut and finished by hand, metal work and leather work fitted and finally hand polished to an exacting finish.

Through this scrupulous care in design and production, we hope that our furniture will be cherished now and treasured by future generations.
